Katsuya by Starck Has an Eye or Two on You

Monday, August 25, 2014, by Susan Stapleton

-

At Katsuya by Starck, it's all about seeing and being seen. Giant eyes and lips overlook diners at this 4,636-square-foot seating 175 with a sushi bar taking center stage at SLS Las Vegas. Master sushi chef Katsuya Uechi handles the menu while Philippe Starck consulting through Gensler designed the space that includes a "bento box" floor plan. Geisha imagery, natural hemlock wood, and pops of neon color highlight the look and feel of this space that also features oversized samurai helmets, a design imported from the brand's newest locations in the Middle East. Helpful tidbit: The Japanese kanji symbol "Katsu" means "victory."

The menu here was adapted for the American palate, dispensed from one of four kitchens: the Liquid Kitchen, Cold Kitchen, Sushi Kitchen, and Hot Kitchen. Also find cocktails such as the Burning Mandarin and Katsuya Fresh. Have a large group? Head to the semi-private Dragon Room with room for 20.

Go ahead, look inside and check out the menu. >>

-
-
-

-
-
-

-
-
KATSUYA
by STARCK
-

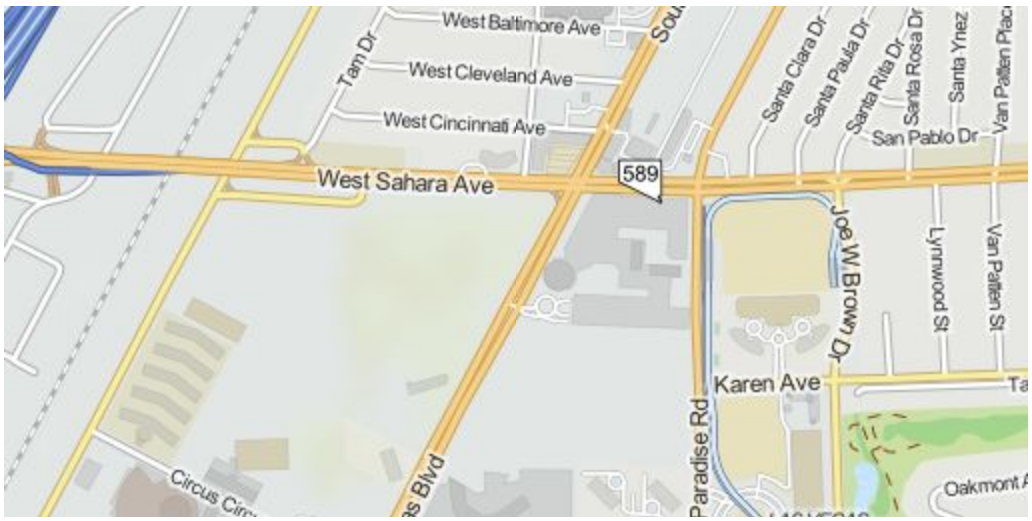
-
-
-

-
-

Katsuya Menu SLS Las Vegas

· All Coverage of Katsuya [~ELV~]

· All Coverage of SLS Las Vegas [~ELV~]



West Baltimore Ave
West Cleveland Ave
West Cincinnati Ave
Tam Dr
West Sahara Ave
589
Santa Clara Dr
Santa Paula Dr
Santa Rita Dr
Santa Rosa Dr
Santa Ynez
Van Patten Place
San Pablo Dr
Joe W Brown Dr
Lynnwood St
Van Patten St
Karen Ave
Paradise Rd
Circus Circ
Oakmont